

Thailand's Issuance and Allocation of AGVCB Permit

Department of Land Transport is responsible for issuance of AGVCB Permit to transport operators. Issuance of permits is overseen by sub-committees under NTTCC.

*DLT Notification contains details on (a) application form and required documents (b) how to submit permit application and (c) selection criteria as approved by NTTCC sub-committee. Application is open for one month.

Summary:

Issuance of permits is overseen by sub-committees under NTTCC with Department of Land Transport as the authority responsible for the issuance.

1. Firstly, when the scope of operationalization is certain, DLT will issue a public notification contains details on (a) application form and required documents; (b) how to submit permit application and (c) evaluation criteria as approved by NTTCC sub-committee.
2. The prerequisite of permit application is to have domestic transport operator license. The application will be opened for one month.
3. After closing permit application, DLT will evaluate each transport operator using the criteria specified in the notification.
4. Quotas will be allocated according to scores and ranking.
5. The list of qualified transport operators and their respective granted quotas will then be submitted to NTTCC sub-committee to endorse.
6. After obtaining the endorsement, DLT will then issue AGVCB Permit to transport operators.

Department of Land Transport
International Transport Affairs Sub-Division